Nipawin Journal — Spillway access closed to public

The access to the spillway at the E.B. Campbell dam will be closed for repairs as of today (Wednesday).

The bridge is located at the SaskPower dam site approximately 80 kilometres northeast of Nipawin.

It will be closed from Aug. 18 to Sept. 18 to repair a sagging concrete girder.

Back in February, a temporary fix to the structure was made that included a 15 mm thick plate.

Now, construction crews are working on a permanent solution to correct the problem.

"(The construction) will affect a number of people," said Larry Christie, media spokesperson for SaskPower.

"We are calling as many of the loggers, outfitters and anyone else that may be affected by the closure and letting them know."
