and social economics on auto pilot

2002 - Huge auction in Tisdale next Tuesday, Asking the impossible, Coherent policy not coalition politics, disappointing dugout and American and Israeli wars

2001 - Change of tempo, Cornerstone of Granny Ghetto, Quality of life is not economic growth but democracy and Democracy is not a matter of capitalism or communism

2000 - Ken Hutchinson and waiting

1999 - Stinson Voyager 108-2 and a little rundown

Tim's Tip of the Day

Though we need to deal with grain hauling "B" trains on almost all of Saskatchewan's highways and roads. The long haul units are concentrated on #1, #16 and #11 highways. The full laws of physics apply. Forget about who has the right of way. Vehicles that heavy and travelling the speed limit need a long distance to stop so drive defensively and watch out for these things. (Click here to see full size.)

Find of the Day

First man arrested with drone evidence vows to fight case

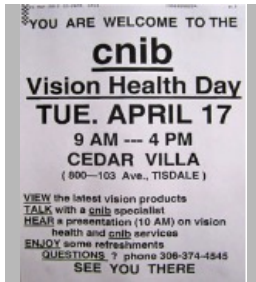

Some cows wandered onto Rodney Brossart's farm near Grand Forks North Dakota. When the Sheriff came to recover the cattle Rodney and his sons drove them off with hunting rifles. He was later arrested with the help of a Homeland Security border surveillance drone. Rodney thinks that's illegal.
