Tim's Tip of the Day

The modern automotive mechanic has impressive tools to work with including computers, high tech wrenches and a host of other impressive technological miracles but the hammer remains the most indispensable tool he has available. \(Click here to see full size.\)

Find of the Day

The tearful origins of China's stealth

China has developed a remarkable, large and perhaps the world's most advanced fighter aircraft. This story explains how China obtained the technology and the link with the deliberate bombing of the Chinese embassy in Serbia in 1999.

Parkland Photography Club January meeting

Tuesday
February 1, 2011
by: Darlene McCullough
Tisdale: The very active Parkland Photo club met with thirteen members present as they discussed up coming events and the success of their slideshow presentations.

World Religion

Tuesday
February 1, 2011
by: Henry Neufeld
Waldeck: By their nature religious folks like to tell you how open minded they are and how we all pray to the same God in our own way. Mr. Neufeld isn't convinced.

Parkland Photography Club slideshows at Senior's residences

Thursday
January 27, 2011
by: Darlene McCullough
Tisdale: Pictures of those who viewed this year's Photo Club slideshows and a brief summary of the history of photography in Canada.

To Blau and back

Wednesday
January 26, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Varadero, Cuba: You will have noticed that Ensign has not posted for a while. We have just been on a short vacation to Cuba.

The Greenwater report

Wednesday
January 26, 2011
by: Gerald Crawford
Saskatoon: The Crawfords will soon be off on a bus tour but before they get away Gerald tells about a business venture by Joan Wagner of Perigord and shares some of his wisdom.

Cubed cars

Monday
January 10, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Valparaiso: Once a car or truck's life on the road is over it most often is taken into a wrecking yard for parts to be salvaged and when that process is over the remains are recycled.

Studying Chinese

Friday
January 7, 2011
by: Mario deSantis
Abbotsford, British Columbia: Mario wrote for Ensign from its very beginnings back in 1998 and it is great to have a story about his latest adventure. As a retired person, what would it be like to learn Chinese? Mario tells us about it and gives us some resources he is using.

The Greenwater report

Thursday
January 6, 2011
by: Gerald Crawford
Saskatoon: Gerald brings us up to date on their festive season with their family and friends. Many people are worried about immigration and Gerald puts in his two cents worth.

Two evergreens less

Wednesday
January 5, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: The two sun thieves in our yard have been dealt a fatal blow and come spring there is a better change of a lawn growing on our front yard.

Decade two of the twenty-first century begins

Friday
December 31, 2010
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: To sum it up 2011 will test us all with its difficult weather. There will be provincial and perhaps a federal election and once again the Riders will be in the Western final. What more can you ask for in a year that starts us into the second decade of the 21st century. Predictions in past years: 2010, 2009, 2008, 2007, 2006, 2005, 2004, 2003, 2002, 2001, 2000, 1999, 1998

Bottom Of The Page Picture of the Day

We are into the season of extreme temperatures, after a week of just at freezing we have endured a week of arctic temperatures and expect to warm up considerably by the weekend. Heavy snow on the top of building leads to the formation of ice-damms. This one on a downtown building as seen at 3:04 on Monday afternoon.
