To Blau and back

Wednesday
January 26, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Varadero, Cuba: You will have noticed that Ensign has not posted for a while. We have just been on a short vacation to Cuba.

The Greenwater report

Wednesday
January 26, 2011
by: Gerald Crawford
Saskatoon: The Crawfords will soon be off on a bus tour but before they get away Gerald tells about a business venture by Joan Wagner of Perigord and shares some of his wisdom.

Cubed cars

Monday
January 10, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Valparaiso: Once a car or truck's life on the road is over it most often is taken into a wrecking yard for parts to be salvaged and when that process is over the remains are recycled.

Studying Chinese

Friday
January 7, 2011
by: Mario deSantis
Abbotsford, British Columbia: Mario wrote for Ensign from its very beginnings back in 1998 and it is great to have a story about his latest adventure. As a retired person, what would it be like to learn Chinese? Mario tells us about it and gives us some resources he is using.

The Greenwater report

Thursday
January 6, 2011
by: Gerald Crawford
Saskatoon: Gerald brings us up to date on their festive season with their family and friends. Many people are worried about immigration and Gerald puts in his two cents worth.

Two evergreens less

Wednesday
January 5, 2011
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: The two sun thieves in our yard have been dealt a fatal blow and come spring there is a better change of a lawn growing on our front yard.

Decade two of the twenty-first century begins

Friday
December 31, 2010
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: To sum it up 2011 will test us all with its difficult weather. There will be provincial and perhaps a federal election and once again the Riders will be in the Western final. What more can you ask for in a year that starts us into the second decade of the 21st century. Christmas in Yuma

Monday
December 27, 2010
by: Michael Townsend
Yuma, Arizona: Many Canadians go South for the winter just like the birds and some stay in Arizona. Two days before Christmas Mike Townsend captured a bit of the spirit and the environment around a Canadian colony in the desert.

House seventeen

Monday
December 27, 2010
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: It takes about a month from the time a lot is prepared until the walls of the new structure are standing. This house located on the corner of Forester and Newmarket was begun November 24 and the walls for the garage were finished off today.

From our house to yours

Thursday
December 23, 2010
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: Our family is on the road tonight on their way to join us for Christmas and a few days more. The tree is up, the gifts are wrapped and I am confident that they Christmas pudding cooking right now will be a delight to us all on Saturday. With the family here there will not be much time for working on Ensign so we will get back to you after the week end to consider the prospects for the coming year. Have yourself a Merry Christmas and may this season bless everyone you know.

House Sixteen

Thursday
December 23, 2010
by: Timothy W. Shire
Tisdale: This is the sixteenth housing start in 2010. There is still one more to be considered a 2010 house and one of this year's projects did not take place. An old dwelling was destroyed and the lot prepared for construction to the point that established in my picture collection as house 5 but the project did not proceed.

Tim's Tip of the Day

If you are only given lemons then make lemonade. The pool was cool so this little girl made the best of it. Put on her mask flippers and floatation device and made a lap around the pool. \(Click here to see full size.\)

Find of the Day

In fields and city streets, Cuba embraces change

Many reforms have begun to have effect in Cuba as government workers are laid off and going into private business for themselves or for others. Agriculture and entrepreneurial projects are flourishing.
