Tim's Tip of the Day

We have all heard that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. But what makes a great breakfast? Interestingly enough a growing number of people are successfully having an all fruit breakfast. The benefits of a fruit breakfast are quite remarkable providing you with needed fibre, flavour and pretty much what you need most to start the day. (Click here to see full size.)

Find of the Day

Old Age Security affordable without changes, watchdog says

Canada's old age pension was designed to cope with the large numbers of baby boomers who are now becoming senior citizens. For political reasons the Harper government is changing the eligibility age to 67 from 65 but the House of Common's budget officer Kevin Page says that there is no need to do so. The programme is sustainable and in 2007 a report was given to the government but has been made top secret and never released to the public.
