Tim's Tip of the Day

For much of my life it was rare to go to a beach in the summer and there not be a lifeguard on hand. This summer in Saskatchewan Provincial and Regional parks we saw no lifeguards at all. The same goes for Manitoba and Ontario. Why? People are drowning and not only is there no help but there is no sign of throwing rings or other devises. This situation is uncivilised. Find of the Day

Fake breasts aged four?

The television cable network TLC airs a show called "Toddlers and Tiaras" one contestant will appear on the show with fake breasts and an enlarged behind. The child is four years of age. The whole concept of the show and the events its broadcasts is questionable but this makes many say it is way over the top.
